

COLLABORATING IN THE MATRIX

MATRIXED, REMOTE, AND INTERNATIONAL, OH MY! THRIVING IN A DISPERSED ENVIRONMENT

Ouch! Only 16% of matrixed employees agree that their organization's projects are well managed. Join this session to uncover a skillset and mindset that makes the matrix work. This training is an excellent way to be part of the connection and collaboration you want at work. Even if you're currently blocked by silos, technology, and time zones, you'll leave with strategies to improve your remote interactions.

HOW YOU THOUGHT WORK WOULD BE

HOW WORK ACTUALLY IS

More ouch! Only 14% of matrixed employees strongly agree that their project leaders provide feedback to their manager about their performance. It's time for all of us to improve our information flow, regardless of whether you're leading the project or contributing in a small way.

90-MINUTE (LIVE) VIRTUAL TRAINING

WHAT'S IT ABOUT?

The world seems to be shrinking. It's exciting to live in a time where technology allows us to collaborate with colleagues regardless of location, time zone, or formal reporting structure.

Yet, it's tough in the matrix. You don't know who owns what. You attend meetings at 11pm when you'd rather be sleeping. And you can't see your teammate's facial expression while you're chatting about an emotionally charged decision.

In this session, you'll:

- 1) Consider Current Workplace Data On Remote And Matrixed Teams: How It Impacts Engagement, Collaboration, and Your Ability To Be At Your Best.
- 2) Explore 5 Key Elements That Drive Effective Performance In The Matrix.
- 3) Do A Self-Assessment On Your Current State In The Matrix (Are You Trying To Eat 1/2 of The Red Pill And 1/2 of The Blue Pill)?
- 4) Learn Tangible Strategies For Communicating, Connecting, And Collaborating In An Environment Where You May Never Meet Your Closest Teammate.
